

American Tray Fireproof Cable Tray Manufacturer

AI Overview

Top U.S. manufacturers of fireproof cable trays include Atkore's US Tray, Basor Electric, and Selco Manufacturing, offering UL-certified, NEMA-compliant solutions.

Leading Manufacturers

- Atkore – US Tray: Established in 2012, US Tray manufactures made-to-order cable trays in the U.S., including wire basket, I-beam, and C-channel designs. Their products are UL-certified, built to NEMA standards, and designed for fire safety and airflow management. They emphasize custom fabrication, logistics support, and compliance with Buy America requirements.
- Basor Electric: Basor provides a wide range of cable tray and ladder systems suitable for commercial and industrial applications. Their products are engineered for fire resistance, durability, and compliance with electrical installation standards, and they offer digital tools for project integration, including CAD and BIM files.
- Selco Manufacturing Corp.: Selco produces custom cable trays from aluminum, fiberglass reinforced plastic (FRP), galvanized, and stainless steel, suitable for fireproofing and supporting insulated electrical cables. They also provide engineering and design services for construction, utility, and marine industries.

Other Notable U.S. Manufacturers:

- MP Husky Cable Tray & Cable Bus – specializes in industrial cable management systems.
- Snake Tray – offers modular and ventilated cable trays for fire safety.
- Electrical Wholesalers, Inc. – large-scale distributor with fire-resistant cable tray options.
- Cable Ties and More – provides galvanized steel, carbon steel, and PVC trays with flame-resistant properties.

Key Considerations

When selecting a fireproof cable tray manufacturer in the U.S., consider:

- Material: Steel, aluminum, or FRP for fire resistance.
- Certification: UL-listed and NEMA-compliant products ensure safety and regulatory compliance.
- Customization: Ability to fabricate trays to specific dimensions.
