

EU Fiber Optic Grating Manufacturer

AI Overview

Eurograte and Fibrolux are leading EU manufacturers of fiber-reinforced gratings, offering high-quality structural and customized solutions across Europe. Eurograte (Italy and EU Presence) Eurograte is a historic European manufacturer specializing in glass fiber reinforced plastic (FRP) gratings, profiles, vertical ladders, and safety structures. Key features include: Manufacturing Process: Teknotex process ensures consistent quality and mechanical properties. Materials: Polyester resins reinforced with continuous fiberglass strands, corrosion-resistant and fire-retardant. Customization: Tailor-made gratings, profiles, and self-supporting structures for industrial applications. Locations: Headquarters in Milan, production in Loreo (Rovigo, Italy), and branches in France, Spain, and Germany. Experience: Over 45 years in the industry, recognized for high-quality standards, sustainability, and compliance with EU regulations. Eurograte's products are primarily structural gratings rather than optical fiber gratings, but they demonstrate advanced fiber technology and customization capabilities suitable for industrial and engineering applications.

Fibrolux (Germany) Fibrolux GmbH, headquartered in Hofheim, Germany, is a leading pultruder of composite materials. Highlights include: Products: Pultruded glass and carbon fiber profiles, GRP gratings, and special profiles for construction, plant engineering, and industrial applications. Customization: Tailor-made solutions for specific project requirements, including structural and corrosion-resistant applications. Experience: Operating since 1979, with projects across Europe and internationally. Fibrolux focuses on structural fiber-reinforced gratings and profiles, offering high mechanical performance and durability.

Other EU Manufacturers WDM Deutenberg (Germany): Produces GRP profiles and gratings according to EN 13706 and DIN 24537-3 standards. Tregit Gitterroste und Treppenbau GmbH (Germany): Specializes in grid grates, railway grates, and stair systems. Allendorfer Fabrik Ing....
