AI Overview

Frontier Tech, Cool Shield, Vertiv, and Subzero Engineering are leading manufacturers of 47U cold aisle containment systems for edge data centers. Frontier Tech is a Chinese manufacturer specializing in ITC racks, modular data centers, and cold aisle containment systems. They offer prefabricated solutions for 42U, 45U, and 47U configurations, including complete data center infrastructure such as precision cooling, intelligent power distribution, monitoring systems, and cable management systems. Their solutions are suitable for both small and large-scale deployments, and they provide modular and containerized data center options for edge applications (data-center.en.made-in-china.com). Cool Shield, under the Armstrong-Worthington Armstrong Venture (WAVE), provides customizable, modular aisle containment solutions for data centers. Their systems are designed to separate cold supply airflow from hot exhaust air, ensuring consistent intake temperatures for equipment. Cool Shield products are versatile, supporting both new and existing facilities, and feature aluminum channel designs that allow flexible configurations for high-density deployments (cool-shield.com). Vertiv offers freestanding, rack-independent aisle containment systems adaptable to hot and cold aisle configurations. Their solutions can be deployed before or after rack installation, simplifying edge data center setups. Vertiv systems are compatible with existing fire suppression and monitoring systems and support a variety of cabinet heights, making them suitable for modular and scalable edge deployments (vertiv.com). Subzero Engineering's AisleFrame™ System provides freestanding containment for hot and cold aisle configurations without relying on ceiling infrastructure or raised floors. The system is modular, scalable, and supports rapid...
