

How much does it cost to customize cable tray elbows in Botswana

AI Overview

Custom cable tray elbows in Botswana typically cost more than standard trays, with prices influenced by material, size, and supplier, generally ranging from $10 to $50 per meter equivalent.

Base Cable Tray Costs

The cost of cable trays depends on material, type, size, and coating. In general:

- Steel trays: $10–$30 per meter
- Aluminum trays: $20–$50 per meter
- Stainless steel trays: higher-end due to corrosion resistance
- Plastic or PVC trays: lower cost but limited load capacity

Additional coatings like hot-dip galvanizing (HDG) or powder coating increase durability and price.

Customization Costs

Custom fittings such as elbows, tees, and junctions are priced higher than straight sections due to additional manufacturing, bending, and labor. Factors affecting cost include:

- Material type: Stainless steel or aluminum elbows cost more than mild steel.
- Angle and complexity: 45° or 90° bends, multi-tier elbows, or special dimensions increase cost.
- Quantity: Bulk orders reduce per-unit cost.
- Supplier and local fabrication: Botswana-based manufacturers like Brilltech Engineers offer custom solutions, which may include design, fabrication, and delivery. While exact prices for elbows are not publicly listed, custom fittings often add 20–50% to the base tray cost, depending on complexity and material. For example, a steel elbow for a standard tray may cost $15–$40 per unit, whereas aluminum or stainless steel could range $30–$70 per unit.

Additional Considerations

- Shipping and delivery: Local suppliers reduce import costs.
- Labor and installation: Skilled labor in Botswana may affect total project cost.
- Project scale: Large projects may qualify for discounts or bulk pricing.
