

Italian Mesh Cable Tray Custom Manufacturer

AI Overview

Spina Group, FEMI-CZ, and Zamet are among the top Italian manufacturers of high-quality custom mesh cable trays, offering durable, ventilated, and fully customizable solutions for industrial and infrastructure projects.

Leading Manufacturers

Spina Group (Schiavetti Tekno) Spina Group is a market leader in Italian cable trays, producing stainless steel, galvanised, and wire mesh trays suitable for industrial and infrastructure applications. Their wire mesh trays are designed for optimal airflow, easy cable routing, and fast installation, with options for custom sizes and compatibility with Unistrut systems. Spina Group emphasizes corrosion resistance, mechanical strength, and compliance with European (EN) and international (UL) standards, making them ideal for energy, oil & gas, and food processing industries.

FEMI-CZ FEMI-CZ specializes in custom metal cable trunking and mesh trays for large-scale installations, including transport, energy, and oil & gas sectors. Their mesh trays are lightweight, highly ventilated, and easy to install. FEMI-CZ offers a wide range of materials and surface finishes, including solutions for naval applications, and focuses on productivity, flexibility, and aesthetic-functional design.

Zamet SpA Zamet provides fully customizable cable tray systems, including ladder, wire mesh, and solid-bottom trays. With over 40 years of experience, Zamet emphasizes load capacity, corrosion resistance, and modular design, catering to both civil and industrial environments. Their products are suitable for complex projects requiring tailored solutions and reliable long-term performance.
