

Singapore Industrial Power Distribution Box Manufacturer

AI Overview

Key industrial power distribution box brands in Singapore include Hensel, Schneider Electric, ABB, and local suppliers like Lim Kim Hai Electric and E-Technik Synergie. Leading Brands and Their Features Hensel offers a wide range of distribution boards and junction boxes designed for harsh industrial environments. Their products, such as ENYBOARD, ENYSTAR, and ENYMOD Mi, provide IP65 to IP67 protection, UV resistance, corrosion resistance, and flame-retardant materials. They are suitable for both indoor and outdoor industrial applications, including photovoltaic systems and high-capacity power switchgear up to 630A. Schneider Electric provides industrial enclosures under the PanelSeT range, including wall-mounted, floor-standing, and modular steel enclosures. These boxes offer IP66 protection, IK10 shock resistance, and are available in polyester, polycarbonate, and fiberglass-reinforced materials. Schneider Electric enclosures are widely used in automation, control, and electrical power distribution applications. ABB is another prominent brand distributed in Singapore, known for high-quality distribution boards and busbar systems suitable for industrial and commercial projects. ABB products are often supplied through local distributors like Lim Kim Hai Electric, which also carries Schneider Electric boards. Local Suppliers and Distributors Lim Kim Hai Electric specializes in industrial electrical and control products, distributing brands such as ABB and Schneider Electric. They provide a wide range of distribution boards for commercial and industrial installations. E-Technik Synergie offers Overground (OG) power distribution boards, industrial-grade panelboards, motor control centers, and outdoor IP65/IP66 waterproof enclosures. They also provide customization, installation, and maintenance services for industrial applications. The Enclosure Peo...
