

Special Price on Brazilian Fireproof Cable Trays

AI Overview

Fireproof cable trays in Brazil, particularly FRP (fiberglass reinforced plastic) types, are available from local suppliers with competitive pricing, typically influenced by material, size, and fire rating.

Overview of Fireproof Cable Trays in Brazil

Fireproof cable trays, including FRP and GRP (glass reinforced plastic) types, are widely used in industrial, commercial, and construction projects in Brazil due to their fire resistance, corrosion resistance, and lightweight properties. These trays are designed to support electrical cables while providing passive fire protection and durability in harsh environments.

Pricing Factors

The price of fireproof cable trays in Brazil depends on several factors:

- Material Type: FRP trays are generally more expensive than standard steel trays due to their fireproof and corrosion-resistant properties. Aluminum and galvanized steel options are also available, with lower fire resistance but higher mechanical strength.
- Fire Rating: Trays certified for higher fire resistance (e.g., 60, 90, or 120 minutes) typically cost more.
- Size and Configuration: Ladder, perforated, and solid-bottom trays vary in price depending on width, length, and load capacity.
- Supplier and Volume: Local manufacturers like Jeetmull Jaichandlall and distributors on platforms like TradeKey offer bulk pricing and customized solutions, which can reduce per-unit costs for large projects.

Estimated Price Range

While exact prices fluctuate based on specifications and supplier, FRP fireproof cable trays in Brazil generally range from approximately BRL 150 to BRL 400 per meter for standard sizes and configurations. Custom or high-load trays with advanced fire ratings may exceed this range. Steel or aluminum alternatives may be slightly lower, around BRL 100 to BRL 250 per meter, depending on coating and fireproof treatment.
