

UAE Smart Micro-Module Direct Sales

AI Overview

Smart Micro-Module products in the UAE can be sourced through authorized distributors and electronics suppliers such as Next Power Electronics LLC and Prime Electrical Manufacturing, with direct inquiries recommended via Smart Micro's official channels. Authorized Suppliers and Distributors

Next Power Electronics LLC – Established in 2012, this Dubai-based company is a leading supplier of electronic components and industrial automation spares across the GCC, including Oman and the UAE. They may provide access to Smart Micro-Module components or facilitate direct orders for radar and sensor modules.

Prime Electrical Manufacturing (PEM) – Based in Dubai, PEM offers integrated energy solutions, modular wiring, and advanced control systems. As a partner of global brands like Schneider Electric, they have experience in intelligent control and distribution systems, which could include Smart Micro-Module integration for traffic management or industrial applications.

Smart Micro Official Website – Smart Micro specializes in advanced radar and AI-based detection solutions for traffic management, automotive ADAS, and smart city applications. While they do not list a UAE-specific direct sales office, contacting them directly through their website can provide guidance on authorized distributors or direct sales options in the UAE.

How to Procure

Direct Inquiry: Contact Smart Micro via their official website to request UAE-specific sales contacts or distributor information.

Local Electronics Suppliers: Reach out to Next Power Electronics LLC or PEM to check availability, pricing, and technical support for Smart Micro-Module products.

Integration Services: For traffic management or industrial applications, PEM can provide installation and integration support for Smart Micro sensors and modules.

Additional Notes

Smart Micro-Module products are designed for high-definition radar tracking, AI-powered detection, and multi-lane traffic monitoring, suitable for smart city and industrial automation projects. Ensure that any procure...
